

New Moon in Libra

September 27 2011

Time: WST 19:09, SA 20:39, EST 21:09

Key Note : Harmony

This new moon there may be a strong desire to join in partnerships and with understanding. If there has been conflict in personal relationships there may arise a desire within you to resolve this. This may come about easily as the energies of harmony, impartiality, fairness and justice are present this new moon.

There is also an attraction to beauty and aesthetics this month.

Contemplations and Actions

- * Now is the time to resolve any conflict and disharmony in your life. Resolve to take compassionate action towards this, the lunar energies support you!
- * Explore your relationship to beauty. Do you allow you beauty to shine for others to see, is your home pleasing to you? Make any changes you feel necessary to allow more beauty to be present (visible) in your life.

Gemstone : Tiger Eye

Tiger Eye is a stone of balance and harmony and is therefore the perfect gemstone to work with this new moon. It is particularly good at assisting one to act from a place of compassion and love and to find harmony with what is currently going on. It is an excellent stone for meditation and negotiation. With Tiger Eye there is a desire and willingness to find common ground.

Tiger Eye also assists with moving beyond duality – right and wrong, good and bad etc. It can assist with discernment and with decision making. It helps us to perceive union and oneness and release thoughts and concepts of separation.
